DETAILED ACTION

1. The preliminary amendment filed 27 March 2007 has been entered. Claims 1 – 15 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group 1, claim(s) 1 – 5 and 10, drawn to mutant human alpha synuclein molecules and compositions comprising same.

Group 2, claim(s) 6 – 9, drawn to genes coding for mutant human alpha synuclein molecules, vectors and cells comprising same, and methods of making protein.

Group 3, claim(s) 11, drawn to a method comprising administering a mutant human alpha synuclein to a cell, tissue, or organism.

Group 4, claim(s) 12 – 14, drawn to proteins comprising SEQ ID NO:23 and compositions comprising same.

Group 5, claim(s) 15, drawn to methods comprising administering a protein comprising SEQ ID NO:23 to a cell, tissue, or organism.

3. The inventions listed as Groups 1 – 5 do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the first claimed invention does not constitute a contribution over the prior art and therefore does not have a special technical feature as defined in PCT Rule 13. The first claimed product is a mutant human alpha synuclein that has decreased aggregate forming ability. However Takahashi 2002 (Brain Research 938:73-80) teaches that when the tyrosine at residue 125 is mutated, alpha synuclein has a decreased ability to form dimers, which indicates it is less able to form aggregates. Therefore the product of claim 1 is not a special technical feature, so there can be no special technical feature common to all inventions.

The products of group 1 have the technical feature of mutated alpha synuclein, which does not appear in any other group. The products of group 2 have the technical feature of nucleic acid, which does not appear in any other group. The technical feature of group 4 is a peptide comprising SEQ ID NO:23, which does not appear in any other group. Note group 4 is not required to be an alpha-synuclein protein, but encompasses any protein that comprises SEQ ID NO:23. The technical features of groups 3 and 5 are cells, which are not required for any other group.

Since the first claimed product does not have a special technical feature as defined by PCT Rule 13, and since the technical feature of group 1 is not present in the claims of groups 2 - 4 and vice versa, unity of invention is lacking. Note that PCT Rule 13 does not allow for multiple products or methods in a single application.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

5. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
